

The Electorate

AN OVERVIEW OF CVR NUMBERS

While there has been a lot of buzz about young people registering to vote and a new energy in the process, the data doesn't support the narrative. Nigeria's last census was in 2006 so the current population figure of 211 million (according to World Bank data) is an estimate. The 2006 figures were heavily contested.

Furthermore, our porous borders and several case studies and utterances from government officials affirm that there are those who have Nigerian IDs but are not Nigerians.

INEC has the largest citizens' database in the West African sub-region so its data demographics are very interesting.

TOTAL NUMBERS

16,537,115

voters were added

to Nigeria's Voters' Register between 2015 and 2019.

Only 10,139,247

new voters have been added

between 2019 and July 18, 2022.

With the deadline of July 31, 2022, how many more people can we add?

STATES WITH MORE NUMBERS

Sokoto, Osun, Kwara, Kogi & Bayelsa have added more people.

LARGE DROPS

Rivers, Ogun, Imo, Enugu & Delta have recorded fewer new registrants.
