

BUHARI'S SCORECARD

In 2015, the All Progressives Congress (APC) sought Nigerians' votes through the presidency of Gen. Muhammadu Buhari (Rtd), with several campaign promises made under the umbrella of 'Change'. 8 years later, using their campaign promises as a yardstick, has Nigeria experienced the 'Change' that was promised?

S/N	Campaign promise	Not Done	Partly Done	Done	Note
1	Have police for the state and community		—		23 States presently run local security outfits in Nigeria.
2	Government officials won't go abroad for medical treatment	✗			President Buhari is currently undergoing dental care in London.
3	Give women at least 35% of top government positions	✗			There are 7 female ministers out of 43, on President Muhammadu Buhari's cabinet.
4	Constant electricity supply for all Nigerians	✗			According to Statista, only about 62% of Nigerians have access to power supply. This includes places where the power supply is interrupted.
5	Create 20,000 jobs per state each year	✗			There is no public record to show that 20,000 jobs were created per state each year.
6	Teach new skills to graduates and give them loans to start businesses, creating 5 million new jobs by 2019		—		The Central Bank of Nigeria (CBN) announced new loans for university and polytechnic graduates who are willing to set up businesses, saying the move is part of its effort to fight rising unemployment in the country.
7	Give money to unemployed youth who finished their national service for one year, while they learn new skills and start businesses		—		N-Power is a scheme set up by President Muhammadu Buhari on 8 June 2016, to address the issues of youth unemployment and help increase social development.
8	Make a database of all Nigerians	✗			Nigeria had its last census in 2006.
9	Bring back the 276 Kidnapped Chibok girls		—		89 of the kidnapped Chibok girls are still in captivity.
10	Bring an end to insecurity in Nigeria		—		Kidnapping, gruesome killings and unrest are still happening in various states, such as Abia, Borno, Bauchi, Taraba, Plateau & the Niger Delta.

Although it's too late for many of these promises to be fulfilled before May 29th, we call on President Muhammadu Buhari to at least fulfill his promise to the Chibok girls and ensure that they are all released before his tenure ends.

Active Citizens,

Public officials were elected to serve you in their offices and it is important for you to hold them accountable for the promises they make during campaigns.

To know who represents you,
Visit www.shineyoureye.org